Mayor Makes Stands And Creates Enemies

Brian Chiasson

I feel bad for our Mayor. As everyone knows, she's been phenomenal, standing up for people everywhere. By taking stands, Hazel makes enemies. Immature people hate those who block their goals. And, irksome social skills (we all have them) only exacerbate.

Martin Luther King, Jr. once said, "In the end, we remember not the words of our enemies, but the silence of our friends." And it hurts.

While most people love Hazel, lots of people don't. This means she doesn't know who to trust among the strangers she meets.

I liked Hazel before I moved to Mississauga but she and I are not likely to be friends, even though I've met her in passing a few times.

The "Friends of Hazel" should get better organized - and not for political reasons. Hundreds of people would love to meet Hazel, and she might also like to meet them.

A note to Hazel: If you ever want to chat, call me. My mom would love to meet you also.

New friends can be lots of fun, can't they?

TARZAN & JANE? WAIT, IT'S KATE!

By Sylvia Lismore

Tarzan swung through the vines
 with his date.

Saying
 "Marry me Jane be my mate."

The girl laughed
 at his folly,

Saying
 "You're off your trolley."

Your first date was Jane. My name's Kate."
